Jackets to Face Steubenville Here Saturday

The Cedarville college Yellow Jackets will open the 1948 half of their cage schedule at Alford Memorial gym on Saturday night when they meet the College of Steubenville.

The Saturday night fray will mark the first time the two schools have ever met in an athletic contest as the eastern Ohioans began intercollegiate sports last fall.

After dropping to Southeastern Oklahoma 54-41 in the opening game of the midwest tournament on New Year's day in what Coach Mendell E. Beattie termed as "the best game the boys have played all year" their season record stands at 2-8.

While the record looks bad for the Jackets, they have faced some of the better name teams of the midwest and for the second half of the season they will face schools rated to be more in their own class.

The SEO team which knocked them out of the Indiana tournament on the opening day of the year was one of the tallest teams the locals have faced during the season and the Jackets stayed close on their heels throughout the entire game with the victors edging away during the closing minutes of the second half.

Don Barger and Bill Troutte accounted for 10 points each, repeated stealing the ball from the giant Okies.

The Jacket schedule called for a game at Tiffin on Friday night but due to road conditions and the game here on Saturday that game has been cancelled.

Brown Candidate For Reelection To Congress

Clarence J. Brown of Lancaster, Clinton county, announced Wednesday that he would be a candidate for reelection to the 7th congressional district at the Republican primary to be held on May 4.

Congressman Brown, who is now serving his fifth term in congress, was unanimously endorsed for reelection at a meeting of the committee chairman and Republican leaders from the nine counties of the 7th district held in Springfield in November.

The 7th district congressman, who is the ranking member of the powerful house rules committee, as well as a member of the house steering committee, the joint house-senate committee and the house committee on expenditures, is considered one of the outstanding Republican leaders in congress.

Mr. Brown is also the Republican national committeeman for Ohio and chairman of the executive committee of the Republican national committee. In 1946 he was director of the Republican national campaign, which resulted in the election of a Republican congress—the first in 16 years.

In private life Congressman Brown is the publisher of a number of country newspapers and is also engaged in farming. He formerly was lieutenant governor and secretary of state, and in 1934 was the Republican nominee for governor of Ohio. He is married and the father of three children—Mrs. L. M. Dearing of Hollywood, Calif.; Mrs. Robert A. Haines of Cincinnati; and Clarence J., Jr., a reserve officer in the navy, now taking post-graduate work at Harvard university.

At the same time, it is noted that the American dollar which was worth one hundred cents during 1939 is only worth 60 cents today. Of course actually the buying power of the dollar today depends on the commodities or services purchased. It will buy only 49 1/2 cents worth of food as compared with 100 cents worth in 1939; or 54 cents worth of clothing as compared with a full dollar's worth in 1939. On the other hand it will buy approximately 82 cents worth of rent and 99 cents worth of public utility services. Government economists believe the American dollar will grow in purchasing power in the months and years ahead, but will never get back all of its 1939 value. They rather expect the average worth of the dollar in the future will be about 80 cents as compared with the purchasing power of the 1939 dollars.

While the administration is trying to minimize its effects, the revelations of the grain market operations by the assistant secretary of the army and former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, Ed Pauley, and of the White House physician, Brig. Gen. Graham, as well as other government officials, has done President Truman's prestige no good. It is reported that even more startling financial operations by government "insiders" is to come soon.

The announcement by Henry Wallace that he will be an independent candidate for president on a third party ticket has the politicians of Washington especially, and of the nation generally, all "a-twitter." The Democratic administration bigwigs, who tried so desperately to prevent the Wallace action, are now saying his candidacy will mean nothing. However, most unbiased observers here are predicting that Mr. Wallace will get sufficient votes in a number of crucial states—such as New York, California, Illinois and Pennsylvania—to make the defeat of Mr. Truman certain. Wallace, having been vice president under Roosevelt, and cabinet member under both Roosevelt and Truman, has sufficient inside information on both new deal administrations as to make him a most dangerous political factor—especially if he decides to speak out. While Wallace may not be able to take with him all the radical votes that have been attracted to the Wallace movement, he will be a formidable force in the election of 1948.

Fairfield Chief Accused of Irregularity

Elias Quinn, Fairfield police chief, appeared before Common Pleas Judge Frank L. Johnson last Wednesday morning to answer a charge of converting public funds to his own use.

Pleading innocent and waiving a preliminary examination, Quinn posted $200 appearance bond after Judge Johnson assigned the case for trial tentatively Jan. 12.

Prosecutor Marcus Shoup, in announcing the sudden arraignment, said Wesley V. Maxie of 648 Dennison street, Dayton, had filed the affidavit in common pleas court, charging Quinn had accepted a $30 wrist watch from Maxie Sept. 11, 1946, in default of a bond deposit after his arrest but had refused to return it.

Maxie, originally informing the prosecutor of his complaint earlier this month, said he had tried within one week after the watch was posted as bond to redeem it by paying the cash forfeiture of $15 but had never been able to recover it.

The prosecutor referred the case to Fairfield council and Mayor T. K. King reported that the matter had been dismissed in executive session because no irregularities could be found.

Quinn, reportedly appeared voluntarily Wednesday when he learned of Maxie's charge here. Prosecutor Shoup said the charge is a misdemeanor and conviction would carry a maximum fine of $500 and court costs or thirty days in jail or both.

CLARENCE J. BROWN writes With a Buckeye In Congress

Member of Congress.
Seventh Ohio District

The second regular session of the 80th congress convened on Tuesday of this week. It will be one of the most important congressional sessions in many years, during which legislative action must be taken on many grave national problems. Among which will come before this session of congress are: The bill the more important measures to make effective the so-called Marshall plan; legislation to curb inflation; the tax reduction bill; the universal military training bill; and legislation to extend reciprocal trade agreements. There are also many other less important legislative problems which must be considered and solved during this session of congress.

While this is being written before the congress convenes, it is rumored that the president's budget request for the new fiscal year, which begins July 1, next, will be right at the forty billion dollar mark, or for two and one-half billion dollars more than his budget request of last year, and for more than four times as much as was spent in any peace-time year under President Roosevelt, or by any preceding president.

The congress cut the president's budget request for thirty-seven and one-half billion dollars last year by approximately three billion dollars. At that time it was being hoped and predicted the budget for this coming year could be held to around thirty billion, or even less. However, if the president's budget request for the coming year is for forty billion dollars, it will be difficult to cut ten billion from it, especially when the executive branch of the government fails and refuses to cooperate in all economy efforts. However, sizeable reductions will undoubtedly be made.

As we start the new year, 1948, it may be interesting to note that the American dollar which was worth one hundred cents during 1939 is only worth 60 cents today. Of course actually the buying power of the dollar today depends on the commodities or services purchased. It will buy only 49 1/2 cents worth of food as compared with 100 cents worth in 1939; or 54 cents worth of clothing as compared with a full dollar's worth in 1939. Federal Land Bank Declares Dividend

The Federal Land bank of Louisville has declared a dividend of $412,682.50 announces M. S. Kennedy, Jr., president.

It was paid to the bank's stockholders—the 118 national farm loan associations in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee on Dec. 22. This brings to almost $5,000,000 the amount of dividends paid by the bank since it was chartered in 1917.

The dividend just declared, explained Kennedy, is for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948. It is paid early in the fiscal year in order to give the national farm loan associations an opportunity to declare dividends so they can distribute dividend checks to their 28,000 members at annual meetings held between Jan. 15 and April 15.

The amount of the land bank's dividend that each association can pass on to its farmer members will depend upon the association's financial condition and the progress it is making on its reserve program, Kennedy said.

D. C. Bradfute Is Endorsed for Xenia P O Post

David C. Bradfute, near Cedar prominent farmer and member of the eight-man board controlling the state division of conservation and natural resources, was endorsed last Friday night by the Greene county Democratic executive committee for the post of acting postmaster of the Xenia Postoffice.

The announcement, made by George H. Smith, chairman of the committee, followed by two days the disclosure by Postmaster Harry A. Higgins, Democrat, that he would retire Jan. 31 because of age and years of service.

Mr. Bradfute, who is 53, was among three applicants considered by the Democrats, it was learned. Names of the others were not disclosed.

Mr. Smith said the committee endorsement would be sent to A. A. Hogstman, Dayton, chairman of the Democratic state committee, who will be asked to forward it to the postal department. It is expected Mr. Bradfute, who once before took a civil service examination for the postmastership will be given the position Feb. 1, barring unforeseen developments.

It is believed the Xenia postoffice will operate under an acting postmaster for a year or more on the basis of appointment delays elsewhere over the country. Although postmasters are named by the president, confirmation comes from the senate. Under the present setup with a Democratic president and Republican congress, permanent appointments are being held up until after the 1948 presidential election. Observers say the presidential winner next fall will determine the politics of Xenia's next regular postmaster.

Mr. Bradfute was appointed Feb. 18, 1946 by Gov. Frank J. Lausche to the state conservation board. He replaced George Troutman, who resigned as president of the American Baseball association to become general manager of the Detroit Tigers, and left Ohio.

The Greene county was backed both by farm and sportsmen's groups for that state appointment.

Mr. Bradfute also has served on the Greene county AAA committee, has been active in the county soil conservation district, the Ohio Wool Growers' Co-operative association and is a former president and secretary of the Greene County Farm Bureau.

Bellbrook Next Foe for Big Red Quintet Friday

The Big Reds of Cedarville high school will attempt to stay on top of the Greene county league Friday night when they travel to Bellbrook to face the Golden Eagles in the opening game of 1948.

The Big Reds took Ross in their opening, and so far only, league encounter before the holidays on the looser's hardwood by a 39-27 count while on the same night Bellbrook was giving the highly rated Spring Valley combine more than they bargained for before bowing out 30-29.

On next Tuesday night the Crimson will again take to the road traveling to Plattsburg in Clark county.

At present Spring Valley, Beaver and Bryan are tied with Cedarville for first place in the county league and there is the possibility of it remaining that way for another week as none of the four meet in the league games this week.

On Tuesday, January 13, the Big Reds will journey into Clark County to challenge the Plattsburg squad, on the latter's court. There are eight games on the Reds' schedule and the boys are promising plenty of action for fans.

Junior High News

The Junior High team will play their fourth game Friday night, when they will travel with the Big Reds to Bellbrook. The Jr. Hi-boys will play in this game in place of the reserve team, who will see no action that night. We wish our Jr. High team lots of luck when they meet the Bellbrook Eagles.

On the School Scene

Here we are back again after a nice, but all too-short vacation. And wouldn't it be wonderful if we could be enjoying the "Winter Wonderland" outside, instead of studying—trying to study, that is; for with the lovely scenery which greets our eyes when we "just happen" to glance out the window, our minds wander to the many happy times we had during the holidays. Maybe you would like to know about some of the holiday activities, so here they are—

H. S. Yuletide Party

Soft candle-light at each window, a beautifully-decorated tree in one corner of the large auditorium, bubble light effects and cedar across the front of the stage, combined with slow music! What could make a friendlier setting for a Christmas dance?

Our High School Yuletide dance was sponsored by the school band, December 23. The guests were served popcorn ball, cookies, and soft drinks.

After dancing for a while, there was a gift exchange for those who brought gifts. Following the exchange, each guest was given a small lighted candle; then a large circle was formed, and Christmas carols were sung. The evening's entertainment was concluded with dancing.

Beverly Carzoo Entertains Seniors

For the Senior class, New Year's Eve was high-lighted by a party held at the home of Beverly Carzoo. Dancing and ping-pong were provided for entertainment by the hostess.

Late in the evening everyone enjoyed chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, punch, and cookies, prepared by Kay Adams, Marie Carroll, Mary Louise Stormont, and Beverly Carzoo.

Shortly after the New Year was ushered in with the ringing of church bells and the shooting of guns, the party dispersed.

Juniors Make Merry On New Year's Eve

Among the New Year's Eve parties, the Junior Class enjoyed a celebration, at the home of Margie Bradfute.

A variety of games provided entertainment throughout the evening—wink, bunny, itchy-kitchy-koo, barnyard melody, and apple relay, and other equally thought-provoking (?) games.

We had a hamburger fry and several kinds of pop were served. Corn was popped and eaten during the evening.

Much noise and merry-making was made at the stroke of midnight. A large dinner bell and small noise-makers were used to enliven the general effect.

A special feature of the evening was the singing of "Happy Birthday" to Douglas Cullice, after twelve o'clock.

Mrs. Chestnut, class sponsor, attended the party, which ended at approximately 1:30 a. m.

Big Reds Active Again

After a long Christmas vacation, the Cedarville Big Reds are back on the court. For their initial game of the new year, they will play the Bellbrook High basketball team on the Eagles' court, January 9.

On Tuesday, January 13, the Big Reds will journey into Clark County to challenge the Plattsburg squad, on the latter's court. There are eight games on the Reds' schedule and the boys are promising plenty of action for fans.

Ignored were cases against I. E. Oglesbee, 72; Xenia, fraudulent check; James Nathan Watkins, 24, Xenia, auto larceny, insufficient evidence; and Edgar Byrd, 31, Xenia, cutting with intent to wound, at request of tre prosecuting witness, his ex-wife, Mrs. Mildred Byrd, who was stabbed in an East End altercation Dec. 6. The only case continued was that of James W. Chambliss, Xenia, charged with non-support of a minor.

Judge Upholds Election Board In Vote Dispute

Fairfield's mayor served his last day last Wednesday in an official capacity.

Even though he retains the appeal privilege, Mayor T. K. King reverted to the status of an ordinary citizen Thursday, with advent of a new year, on the heels of Common Pleas Judge Frank L. Johnson's decision which, in effect, upheld the county board of elections.

Judge Johnson, recognizing the disqualification of six ballots in a recount following the November election as the crux of the dispute, ruled in favor of the defendant Robert Kerwin, councilman-elect, whose election was challenged by Mayor King as illegal. The court dismissed King's petition Wednesday.

By this gesture, Kerwin was seated along with Daniel W. Hoak, Austin Lipp, Hillary Carpenter, Charles Ross and William E. Sipe as councilmen when that body in Fairfield can organize after Jan. 1. Kerwin reportedly will join Lipp, Carpenter and Ross as the majority bloc opposed to merger with neighboring Osborn, source of other common pleas court litigation.

Mayor King who quit council in October to replace the late Mrs. Laura Brown but campaigned for a seat on the new council, relinquished the reins of government to D. S. Lynn former mayor who was reelected at the head of an anti-merger ticket Nov. 4.

Reviewing the facts wherein King was listed originally as a winner and later unseated by William E. Sipe in a recount asked by Sipe, Judge Johnson backed the election board in declaring the half dozen ballots "mutilated" because they bore seven markings where only six councilmen were to be elected.

"The whole question before the court," his decision read, "is whether or not the board of elections was correct in throwing out the six ballots introduced in evidence or whether they should have counted them. If they had been counted by the board, herein, would have been elected."

"There were six members to be elected to the council and on each of the ballots which were thrown out, in addition to X marks in front of six candidates, there was, also, on ballot number one a mark in front of the name of Charles E. Loe; on ballot number two a mark in front of the name of Ruth B. Koogler; on ballot number three a mark in front of the name of William E. Sipe; on ballot number four an X mark that is still discernible in front of the name of Hillary Carpenter; on ballot number five a mark in front of the name of Charles E. Loe; and on ballot number six a mark in front of the name of Robert Kerwin. So that on each one of the six ballots there were seven markings.

"It seems to the court that the question has been settled in the case of the state of Ohio on relation of Gottlieb Bambach vs. John W. Markley, decided by the circuit court of Brown County, February, 1907, and affirmed by the supreme court without report June 28, 1907. . . . In the fourth syllabus of that case the court says among other things:

"And if the voter makes a mark above or below or on the side or at the top of the column occupied by the name of the non-partisan candidate, his intention to vote for such candidate is clearly indicated."

"Under the rule in the above case, if the only marking on, for instance, ballot number one, had been that marking opposite the name of Charles E. Loe, then that mark would have had to have been counted as a vote for Charles E. Loe, because it would have indicated the intent of the voter as set forth in the above decision. Then if we follow that reasoning and rule out all the marks would have to be counted, which would make too many per-

Lesson for January 11, 1948

THE Scripture for Sunday's lesson is Isaiah 40:28-31, Matthew 6:9, John 14:13-14, and Acts 17:23-31, with Psalm 33 as the devotional reading.

"Hast thou not known? Hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? There is no searching of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint, and to them that have no might, he increaseth their strength. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint."

That is the passage from Isaiah. What a promise! In this hour when men are bending beneath the burden of a war-weary world, how it gives life to one's soul to contemplate the words of this great and blessed promise.

God Our Maker
"HE GIVES to all men life and breath and everything." Acts 17:25. One of our daily prayers should be to thank God that he has let us open our eyes to the beauty of another dawn. We must not take it for granted. It is the goodness and mercy of God that permits us to open our eyes, to breathe, to have food, to think. He gives us life and breath and everything.

And He Is Our Father
Not only is God the Creator and Sustainer of the physical universe; but he is also our Father. He knows us each by name. He cares for the sparrows, simply because they are sparrows. He cares for us because we are his children, made in his image, capable of fellowship with him. The end of man, as the Catechism clearly teaches, is to enjoy God and glorify him forever.

Read again the passage that describes Paul's visit to Athens, and how he observed that the people, though quite intelligent, were worshipping many different gods. Paul summoned them to worship the one true and living God.

When we acknowledge God as Maker and Father, we are then enabled to serve him in conscious assurance of his love and care for us as his adopted children.

Show Us the Father
READ again John 14:8-14, and join with Philip in the prayer, "show us the Father." Jesus answered Philip, saying, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." We come to know God as Father through Jesus Christ, and only through Jesus Christ.

Jesus goes on to say to Philip, "If ye shall ask anything in my name, I will do it." The greatest need of our day and generation is a fresh understanding of God—his nature and his will. We can know him through Jesus Christ. And we come to know him through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Enoch walked with God. Abraham was the friend of God. David was a man after God's own heart. And Jesus came to perfectly reveal the Father. The determining factor in knowing God as Father is our willingness to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Belief in God Today
THE Bible is a Book for today—any day, every day. It reveals the purpose of creation, both of the universe and man himself. It reveals the loving concern of God for every soul. It portrays his forbearance and his mercy and his exceeding kindness, even to sinful men and women who reject his love.

Best of all, the Bible tells us the sweetest story ever told—the story of how God gave his only begotten Son—that whosoever believeth on him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

Religion, the Christian religion, is the most practical proposition in the world. Every man is constantly in reach of God, if only he will believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. God is yonder in the loneliest watchtower of the timberlands. He is yonder on the storm-tossed ship at sea. He is everywhere, waiting to own and bless any and all who will come to him through Jesus Christ.

Now...see your work IN A NEW LIGHT!

Let electric light make chores easier, safer

• Modern electric lighting, indoors and out, makes life easier, helps you accomplish more. Especially during the season of short days, when so many tasks must be done without natural sunlight, the boon of electric lighting speeds work, cuts fire hazards and prevents many an accident. Good lighting enables you to see where you are going, what you are doing.

On long winter evenings the whole family can enjoy eye-saving Certified Lamps for reading, sewing, school homework and farm account keeping.

All year long, outdoor lighting with carefully placed reflector units protects your home against prowlers, your poultry and stock against thieves.

For advice on farm lighting, consult your County Agricultural Agent, or talk over your needs with the Farm Representative of The Dayton Power and Light Company serving your neighborhood.

Employment Service Takes Over Farm Labor

On January 1, the responsibility for supervision of the emergency farm labor program will pass from the Agricultural Extension Service to the State Employment Service. During the war the extension service was responsible for recruiting and supervising the distribution of hundreds of local workers as well as bringing in Jamacan workers, German Prisoners of War, and Alabama whites to work on Greene County farms.

The local program was directed by county labor committee with Myron Fudge, chairman and Harper Bickett, secretary. Two farmers from each township served on the committee. Elmer Smith served as emergency farm labor assistant until the first of last February.

been going to the Democratic candidates in recent years, he will undoubtedly have the support of a great proportion of them.

If government experts are correct in their estimates the cash income from agriculture will be $29,900,000,000 in 1948 as compared to $30,300,000,000 in 1947. Wages and salaries will be $127,000,000,000 in 1948 as compared to $121,000,000,000 last year, with the average hourly earnings of factory workers being $1.32 per hour this year as against $1.22 in 1947. 58,800,000 civilians will be gainfully employed in 1948 as against an average of 58,000,000 last year. Total personal income for American citizens is expected to reach $204,000,000,000 this year as compared with $197,000,000,000 last year. But here is the rub: The cost of living in 1948 will be at the index figure of 132 per cent as compared with the 1926 (taken as a normal year) figure of 100 per cent and the 1947 figure of 126 per cent. The wholesale price level is expected to reach 163 per cent of the 1926 figure. Remember these 1948 figures are all estimates and many economists predict a break in prices and business activities before the year is over.

At the Courthouse

Closing out 1947 in common pleas court was a smattering of new suits, two damage actions included.

The General Exchange Insurance Corp. of Dayton and R. A. Bradley, 502 Livermore St., Yellow Springs, are plaintiffs in a suit against Edward Geis, Clinton, R. R. 1, for $1,463.

The petitions charges Geis with failure to stop at an intersection of South River Rd. and Grinnel Rd. between Yellow Springs and Wilberforce and with responsibility for an auto accident there Nov. 15. Damage to a taxicab operated by Bradley was placed at $563, loss of the vehicle's use at $600 and sustenance paid the cab driver at $300. Horn and Zarka, Dayton law firm, represents the plaintiffs.

Another accident, on the Spring Valley-Centerville pike, near the Greene-Montgomery line last Aug. 26, was the basis for a suit filed by Harvey Grushon against Robert and Elliott Williamson, who live near the crash scene. He seeks $175 damages, the cost of repairs to his auto. Miller and Finney, Xenia, filed the action.

EXPERIMENT STATION RECOMMENDS WAYS OF INCREASING 1948 OHIO FARM YIELDS

COLUMBUS, O. (SPECIAL)

Planting the right seeds at the right times will help Ohio farmers to raise the larger crops required in 1948 to supply the needs of this country and abroad, according to Dr. David F. Beard, extension agronomist at Ohio State University.

Helping toward that end is this new adaptation map and chart compiled by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station and the Ohio State University Agricultural Extension Service. Each Ohio farmer can tell quickly the best seed varieties for his part of the state.

Recommendations are based on extensive tests by Ohio's agricultural specialists and by farmers in the field.

To guide farmers in the proper selection of best adapted crop varieties, the state has been divided into seven areas, as shown by the drawing in the next column. The best available hybrid corn, oats, soybeans, clover and winter wheat are indicated for the various sections for planting in 1948.

The terms "short season," "mid-season" and "full-season" as applied to good corn land in an average season are used to indicate the time required for any hybrid to reach maturity in the particular area, with due recognition to the influences of soil productivity, seasonal conditions, and management activities.

Relative maturity of various Ohio hybrids is shown by the letters M, K, W, C and L, the "M" hybrids requiring least time to mature with the others progressively later at intervals of about three days between each letter group.

"Full season" seed requires early planting, and "short season" seed should be used to insure a mature crop from late plantings.

For winter wheat, the varieties Butler, Thorpe, Trumbull and Fulho are good for all areas except the extreme southwest where Thorpe is not recommended.

Kentucky No. 1 and Ohio No. 1 are recommended varieties of winter barley for all seven areas. In the case of oats, Clinton and Wayne are approved for all areas except the southern section. There Columbia and Clinton are advised.

For soybeans, the recommended varieties to precede winter wheat are Earlyana in the extreme northeast, Earlyana and Richland in most other portions. Richland alone is suggested in the southern part, and Richland and Lincoln in the extreme southwest. For the full season, the recommended soybeans are Richland in the northeast and Lincoln for all the rest of the state.

Although Hawkeye soybeans and Ajax oats have been added to the recommended list, seed of these will not be generally available for 1948 plantings, and they have therefore been omitted from the table below.

Recommendations on red clover are Van Fossen and Midland for the northern half with the addition of Cumberland in the central section. In the southern part, Cumberland and Kentucky 215 are advised.

In the case of timothy, the Lorain variety gets approval for central and northern Ohio, and Marietta in the southern part.

The recommendations for seed corn show considerably more variation according to section and season, and these are given in detail in the chart.

In view of the limited supply of best adapted hybrids, Dr. Beard points out the possibilities of planting an extra acre with each bushel of seed through the use of smaller seed.

"Drilled or checked, the smaller sizes of Ohio Certified hybrid seed will plant evenly with the proper planter plates. This means that the farmer can plant an average of eight to ten acres per bushel with small seed, as compared to seven or eight acres with larger sizes, and secure the same yield," the Ohio State agronomist says.

Lists of growers of Ohio Certified seeds of all the recommended varieties are available through county agricultural extension agents.

Spahr to Again Head County Commissioners

Ralph O. Spahr of Xenia township was reelected president of the three-man Republican board of county commissioners when it reorganized for 1948 Monday morning.

Mr. Spahr was renamed after Charles F. Greer of Beaver Creek township, in line for the appointment, declined because his telephone is on the Dayton exchange and he considers it an inconvenience for most Greene countians to contact him. Hugh Turnbull, Cedarville township, is the third member of the board.

All appointive posts were filled for another year with present incumbents: Dr. R. L. Haines, Jamestown, county jail physician; Dr. S. C. Ellis, Xenia, county infirmary physician; D. H. Pittz, Yellow Springs, county relief director; Vernia Matthews, Jamestown, county dog warden; William Short and Arthur Holbert, both of Xenia, court house custodian and assistant, respectively; and Ezra Lucas, assistant fireman of the county heating plant.

Election Officials To Get Boost In Pay Scale

None of Greene county's board of elections officials will get salary increases until after March 1 although raises are made possible by enactment of a new salary schedule in legislation signed by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert and effective Jan. 2. Local boosts are equal to 50 per cent.

Under the schedule the four local board members will receive annual salaries of $660 but not until they begin new four-year terms. The terms expire in pairs every two years and two members will get the boost in pay following appointments effective March 1. The present scale is $440 a

1948 Chevrolet is Massive

The over-all simplicity and massiveness of the new, 1948 Chevrolet is well shown in this three-quarter view of the Fleetmaster Sport Sedan. Mr. King has indicated he will appeal the case to a higher court.
